The diagram illustrates a 5-week calendar grid. The grid is organized into five columns, each representing a week, labeled 1 through 5. Each week column contains seven rows for the days of the week. The days of the week are listed at the bottom of the grid: Mon, Tue, Wed, Thu, Fri, Sat, Sun. Arrows indicate the progression of time from one week to the next. A large curved arrow at the bottom indicates a transition from the end of week 5 back to the start of week 1.

Week	1	2	3	4	5
